SHOPPING GUIDE

DALLAS ALLEN FRISCO WAXAHACHIE

NORTHPARK CENTER

Art meets fashion at NorthPark Center, where works by some of the world's most renowned artists mingle with storefronts that range from splurge-worthy to budget-friendly. Neiman Marcus sets the Texas standard in luxury goods, along with its contemporary collection at CUSP by Neiman Marcus. Nordstrom, complete with The Wedding Suite, Macy's and Dillard's round out the center's anchors.

When we said "splurge-worthy," we weren't kidding. The corridors of NorthPark read like the pages of Vogue—or the labels inside your favorite celebrity's closet. From Valentino, to Gucci, to Versace, to Bottega Veneta, to Louis Vuitton, there's no shortage of luxury.

But NorthPark isn't one-note. There are plenty of more budget-friendly—but no less stylish—storefronts to peruse, like Kate Spade, J.Crew, Madewell and H&M. Look for Longchamp, Zara and Sam Edelman to join the NorthPark lineup in 2016.

KNOX/HENDERSON

L.A. has Melrose and Robertson. Dallas has Knox/Henderson, where some of the city's most noteworthy fashion boutiques and home furnishings stores reside. On Henderson Ave., start at The Gypsy Wagon, where boho looks that skew a little western mingle with cowboy boots and equally Texas-worthy home accessories. Walking into the first Texas location of Planet Blue is like entering a high-fashion version of California's Coachella music festival. (Read: high-fashion bohemian at its best.)

Also on Henderson, Coco & Dash is a favorite among local interior designers with its luxury home furnishings that blend antiques with new and contemporary. Further down Henderson is Milk & Honey, known for regularly taking the paychecks of Dallas' young and fashionable crowd. Expect everything from soft, slouchy basics to boho daywear to sleek looks perfect for a night on the town.

Across Central Expwy. on Knox St., Planet Bardot has a devoted following for its curated collection from internationally-acclaimed and emerging designers. Kate Spade and Steven Alan round out Knox St.'s fashion offerings, while favorites like Crate & Barrel, Restoration Hardware, Pottery Barn and Mecox are a hub for home décor enthusiasts.

JUST OFF KNOX

If your day takes you to Knox Street, it's worth heading south on McKinney Ave. to check out more of Dallas' premier shopping spots. Forty Five Ten is a fashionista's dream, with the season's most noteworthy runway looks from names like Balenciaga and Givenchy. If high-design home décor is more your style, don't miss BoConcept, Mitchell Gold + Bob Williams, Design Within Reach and Jonathan Adler.

Four blocks west on Travis St., Grange Hall is known for home accessories, jewelry and art with a mysterious, gothic edge, while the leather goods and art at STAG Provisions for Men are worth a look even if you're not shopping for a man—seriously, they're that good.

BEST SHOPPING SPOTS — IN DALLAS —

FROM SPLURGE-WORTHY DESIGNER LOOKS AND HOME DÉCOR THAT MAKES A HOUSE A HOME, TO BUDGET-FRIENDLY EVERYDAY MUST-HAVES AND EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN

ANTIQUES ON RIVERFRONT: What's old is new along Dallas' Riverfront Boulevard, where a collection of antique stores are home to everything from 19th century fine European antiques to mid-century modern treasures to century-old imports from across the globe.

BLUE PRINT: A visit to Blue Print is a real treat. The design team behind the store curates a collection that beautifully blends hand-picked antiques with modern touches in a home on Fairmount Street.

FORTY FIVE TEN: Named for its achingly chic address along uptown Dallas' McKinney Avenue, Forty Five Ten is where the who's-who of Dallas and Hollywood alike shop for the latest straight-off-the-runway styles from names like Céline, Givenchy, Lanvin and more.

GRANGE HALL: This Travis Street outpost is unlike any other boutique in Dallas. Its curated collection of decorative objects, coffee table books and jewelry has a gothic edge—think skulls, claws and crosses.

HIGHLAND PARK VILLAGE: The lineup of shops at Highland Park Village is a lesson in fashion history. Home to storied names like Hermès, Chanel and Saint Laurent, the open-air 1931 Mediterranean-Spanish style shopping center is a true Dallas original.

KNOX-HENDERSON: Unique local boutiques stand alongside established names in this popular shopping area. Divided by Central Expressway, Henderson Ave. to the east is home to a mix of antique and import shops and trendy fashion. Knox St. to the west is known for Crate & Barrel, lululemon and Kate Spade.

LION + WITCH: The name is a clever take on C.S. Lewis' The Lion, the Witch & the Wardrobe, and what's inside is a fashionista's dream: a mix of east and west coast style at shockingly affordable prices. This newcomer to the Dallas shopping scene is the upscale sister store to Henderson Ave.'s Milk & Honey.

LOVER'S LANE: When Dallas' well-heeled Park Cities crowd needs a shopping fix, they head to a stretch of Lover's Lane known for its boutiques ranging from wallet-friendly fashion to upscale home furnishings and gifts. Favorites include Elements, Bel Air Home and Wisteria.

MELISSA BENGE COLLECTION: Texas-bred Melissa Benge, known for Gunslinger in Bandera, brings her brand of upscale apparel, accessories and home décor with a cowgirl flair to Henderson Ave.

MILK & HONEY: This Henderson Ave. favorite serves up just about everything a fashionista needs to build her wardrobe—from soft, slouchy basics to boho daywear, to sharp, sleek styles perfect for a night out—all priced well under $100.

NEIMAN MARCUS: No trip to Dallas is complete without a visit to Neiman Marcus at NorthPark Center, the original way to shop luxury goods in Texas.

NICOLE KWON CONCEPT STORE: Fashion editors across Dallas are buzzing about the Nicole Kwon Concept Store at West Village, which serves up a shopping experience reminiscent of New York's SoHo, filled with styles from A.L.C., Rachel Comey and Karen Walker.

NORTHPARK CENTER: Public art mingles with a lineup of stores ranging from splurge-worthy—Neiman Marcus, Gucci and Valentino, to name a few—to familiar faces like Nordstrom, H&M, Kate Spade and J.Crew.

STANLEY KORSHAK: Known for catering to the crème de la crème, this department store located at Hotel Crescent Court has head-to-toe designer offerings from established and up-and-coming names.

THE GYPSY WAGON: The Gypsy Wagon embodies the vibe that most people would picture for a Texas boutique: casual boho styles with a western streak, alongside cowboy boots and home accessories that'll have you saying "y'all" in no time.

THE SHOPS AT PARK LANE: Located at the most-shopped intersection in Dallas, this development is home to the trifecta of Nordstrom Rack, Saks Fifth Avenue OFF 5th and Bloomingdale's The Outlet, plus the world's first J.Crew Mercantile and Forever 21's newest concept, F21 RED.

TOOTSIES: Known for its selection of day- and eveningwear from American and European designers, what sets Tootsies apart from other high-end shopping experiences is its staff's impeccable customer service and attention to detail.

UNCOMMON MARKET: When it comes to home furnishings and accessories, the selection of global imports at Uncommon Market is in a league of its own.

WISTERIA: The only physical location of this eclectic home furnishings catalog favorite has a brand new showroom location at Inwood Village.

OOH LA LA LUXURY

Sometimes we like to think that the two L's in Dallas stand for labels and luxury, because Big D serves up an endless selection of high-fashion names from around the globe. Take, for instance, Highland Park Village, where Hermès, Chanel, Christian Louboutin, Céline and Saint Laurent all take up residence. NorthPark Center is known for Valentino, Versace, Bottega Veneta, Cartier and Bvlgari, and Galleria Dallas has Louis Vuitton and Gucci.

Stanley Korshak has the latest in straight-from-the-runway designs, including a designer bridal salon, and Forty Five Ten is known for its cutting-edge collection, featuring names like Givenchy and Balenciaga.

GALLERIA DALLAS

When Dallasites want a shopping destination as big and bold as Dallas itself, they head to Galleria Dallas. Three stories of retail bliss are anchored by Nordstrom, Macy's and Belk, and that's only the beginning.

A newly expanded and remodeled Zara leads the fast-fashion pack along with H&M and a two-story Forever 21. Designer handbags, sunglasses and more line the shelves at Louis Vuitton, Gucci and Michael Kors. Karen Millen is loaded with high-end styles from across the pond, and Marciano has the vibrant va-va-voom looks to add sizzle your wardrobe.

For an update on tried-and-true classics, turn to J.Crew and Club Monaco. Pint-size fashionistas enjoy hours browsing and playing in American Girl Boutique & Bistro.

 EVERYTHING

BANG FOR YOUR BUCK

It's a fact that scoring a designer find at a rock-bottom price makes the purchase that much sweeter. That's where the Dallas area's stellar lineup of outlets comes in.

Allen Premium Outlets, located north of Dallas at Central Expwy. and Stacy Road, is a must-see for any bargainista. Among the center's designer outlets are Kate Spade, Elie Tahari, Coach, Michael Kors and Last Call by Neiman Marcus.

Just west of Dallas, Grand Prairie Premium Outlets is home to its own mix of designer outlets, including Joe's Jeans, Kate Spade, Saks Fifth Avenue OFF 5th, Sperry, True Religion and Bloomingdale's The Outlet.

Located at the most-shopped intersection in Dallas at Central Expwy. and Park Lane, The Shops at Park Lane boasts the rare trifecta of Nordstrom Rack, Saks Fifth Avenue OFF 5th and Bloomingdale's The Outlet. Each of the three is known for receiving top-tier merchandise for its respective brand. J.Crew Mercantile and F21 RED round out the must-see spots for impressive values.

LOVERS LANE

In Dallas, tales about lovers usually lead back to fashion and stylish home furnishings—found along Lovers Lane. A stretch of the established Dallas street is a hub of must-see local boutiques.

Elements is a Dallas favorite for a well-curated selection of designer looks season after season. Its sister store, Elle, is home to a more casual—but no less stylish—collection. Across the street, Hemline, Lou*Lou and Mine offer more wallet-friendly fashion from nationally recognized and lesser-known boutique labels.

For style that goes beyond the closet, head west along Lovers to Bel Air Home, known for a diverse mix of home accessories, vintage furnishings and gifts. Shop one-of-a-kind factory samples and discontinued models of lighting and home accessories at Arteriors too Outlet.

A new Wisteria showroom has taken up residence at Inwood Village, located at the corner of Lovers Lane and Inwood Road. It's the world's only physical location of this eclectic catalog home décor company.

Next door to Wisteria, Mary Cates and Co. is the store behind noted Dallas interior designer Mary Cates, who's been named Best Designer by D Home multiple times. Her style blends old, new and custom flawlessly.

THE SHOPS AT PARK LANE

If your definition of a thrill is finding lust-worthy designer labels at unbelievable prices, then buckle up for the ultimate rush at The Shops at Park Lane.

Located at the most-shopped intersection in Dallas at Central Expwy. and Park Lane, it's one of the few shopping centers in the nation that's home to the outlet trifecta of Nordstrom Rack, Saks Fifth Avenue OFF 5th and Bloomingdale's The Outlet. Each is a flagship location for its respective brand and receives top-tier merchandise.

We're talking a staggering selection of designer denim from names like J Brand, Paige and Joe's, contemporary collections from Vince and Diane von Furstenberg, a massive selection of designer sunglasses and shoe departments that always deliver. Bloomingdale's The Outlet is also known to receive shipments of Gucci and Bottega Veneta handbags.

And it gets better. The Shops at Park Lane is also home to the world's first J.Crew Mercantile. A new concept in J.Crew outlet shopping, it's filled to the brim with all the J.Crew style you love at impressive prices.

Forever 21 also brought its latest concept, F21 RED, to The Shops at Park Lane. It's a two-story wonderland of the basics and daywear Forever 21 is known for, but at even better prices. The store's collections include women, men, active, plus, kids and accessories.

Old Navy, Ulta Beauty and Charming Charlie round out The Shops at Park Lane's lineup, plus Dallas' flagship location of Starbucks for a mid-shop latté or glass of wine, as well as an urban park.

FRISCO

A quick 20-minute drive north of Dallas, Frisco is known for its roster of big names in fashion and home furnishings as well as local one-of-a-kind boutiques.

The only North Texas location of IKEA welcomes visitors to Frisco's "Furniture Row," where Rooms to Go, Ashley Furniture, Anderson's Furniture, The Leather Sofa Co. and Zuri are all ready to outfit your home in style.

More home style continues at IBB Design Fine Furnishing, a local powerhouse for interior design that earned the title of Best Furniture Store in the U.S. at the 2014 ARTS Awards.

Sam Moon is a Frisco must-see, packed from floor to ceiling with fashion jewelry, accessories and handbags, all at near-wholesale prices. Frisco fashionistas turn to Twisted Simplicity and Blue Door Boutique when their closets need an affordable, on-trend update. Frisco Mercantile is home to 250 different local vendors under one roof, serving up everything from boutique fashions and children's apparel to home décor and gifts.

Sussie's is Frisco's premier destination for designer labels like Trina Turk and Rebecca Taylor, and Stonebriar Centre is home to big names like Nordstrom, Apple, Michael Kors, H&M and more.

WAXAHACHIE

- 12) HISTORIC DOWNTOWN SQUARE

WAXAHACHIE

Experience authentic mom-and-pop shops in Waxahachie, just south of Dallas along I-35. The city's historic downtown square positioned around the legendary Ellis County Courthouse provides a charming backdrop for a day of retail therapy.

The Dove's Nest is a local hotspot for everything from vintage linens to handmade gifts to home-style meals—there's an adjoining restaurant known for its menu of scratch-made daily specials. Continue along the downtown square and Rogers Street for endless antiques at My Father's House, Old Town Village, GG's Vintage Home, Paris Market, Gran's Antiques and Red Barn Flea Market, Antiques & More, to name a few.

You might not expect a quaint town like Waxahachie to have an art gallery worthy of a much larger city, but that's exactly what you'll find at Webb Gallery, with collections ranging from folk art to the downright kooky. Stop by Multitudes for on-trend fashion with a vintage and Texas twist.

Experience down home hospitality that can only be found in Waxahachie. You'll find the legendary Ellis County Courthouse, plus unique dining and shopping opportunities.
